Anne Fontaine's (Coco Before Chanel, The Innocents) latest is a stirring a police drama.

In this moody Police drama set in Paris, Virginie, Erik and Aristide work as police officers in a local brigade, trying to hold their personal and emotional lives together while dealing with daily occurrences of violence in homes and on the streets. One night, they are assigned an unusual mission and must drive a migrant back to the border for unspecified reasons. On their way to the airport, Virginie discovers the prisoner will be sentenced to death if he goes back to his country. Faced with an unbearable dilemma, she starts to question their mission... They have the night to decide one man's fate.

“An affectionate portrait of cops under the gun.”

— THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER:

“The director displays no shortage of experience (...) she treads her signature fine line between auteur cinema and crowd-pleaser almost perfectly.”

— CINEUROPA

“In Night Shift, Fontaine is particularly sensitive to female experiences — both as a cop and as the people the cops are there to help.”
